

REPORT ON THE FINANCES.

OCTOBER, 1803.

In obedience to the directions of the act supplementary to the act entitled "An act to establish the Treasury Department," the Secretary of the Treasury respectfully submits the following report and estimates.

The annual nett proceeds of the duties on merchandise and tonnage had, in former reports, been estimated at nine million five hundred thousand dollars. That estimated revenue, predicated on the importations of the years immediately preceding the late European war, and on the ascertained ratio of increase of the population of the United States, appears, from the experience of the last two years, to have been underrated. The nett revenue arising from that source, which accrued during the year 1802, exceeds ten million one hundred thousand dollars. The revenue, which has accrued during the first two quarters of the present year appears, from the best estimate that can now be formed, to have been only fifty thousand dollars less than that of the two corresponding quarters of the year 1802; and the receipts into the Treasury, on account of the same duties, during the year ending the 30th of September last, have exceeded ten million six hundred thousand dollars. Those facts afford satisfactory evidence that the wealth of the United States increases in a still greater ratio than their population, and induce a belief that this branch of the public revenue may now be safely calculated at ten millions of dollars.

From the statement (A,) it will appear that the same revenue for the last two years of the late European war, (1800 and 1801,) calculated at the present rate of duties, averaged 11,600,000 dollars a year; but although it might, with some degree of probability, be supposed that the renewal of hostilities will again produce a similar increase, no inference from that period is drawn in this report, in relation to the revenue of the ensuing years.

The statement (B) shows the several species of merchandise on which the duties on importations were collected, during the year 1802, the portion of that revenue which was derived from drawbacks, and that which arose from the extra duty on merchandise imported in foreign vessels.

Although the sales of the public lands, during the year ending on the 30th day of September last, were affected by the situation of the western country, two hundred thousand acres have been sold during that period; and as it appears by the statement (C,) that, independent of future sales, the sums already paid to the receivers, together with those which, exclusively of interest, fall due during the three ensuing years, amount to 1,250,000 dollars, the annual revenue arising from the proceeds of those sales cannot be estimated at less than four hundred thousand dollars.

The extension of post roads, and the acceleration of the mail, whilst diffusing and increasing the benefits of the institution, have, as an object of revenue, rendered it less productive. The receipts from that source have amounted, during last year, to 27,000 dollars; but, as neither these, nor those arising from some other smaller incidental branches, are of sufficient importance to affect any general result, the whole existing revenue of the United States will be computed at only ten million four hundred thousand dollars.

The permanent annual expenses of Government, which, under existing laws, must be defrayed out of that revenue, amount to nine million eight hundred thousand dollars, to wit:

1st. The annual appropriation of 7,300,000 dollars, for the payment of the principal and interest of the debt; of which about three millions and a half are at present applicable to the discharge of the principal, and the residue to the payment of interest	$7,300,000
2d. The current expenses of Government, which, according to the estimates for the year 1804, consist of the following items, viz:
For the civil department, and all domestic expenses of a civil nature	$791,000
For expenses attending the intercourse with foreign nations, including the permanent appropriation for Algiers, and all other expenses relative to the Barbary powers	184,000
For the military and Indian department	875,000
For the naval establishment, calculated on the supposition that two frigates and four smaller vessels shall be kept in commission	650,000
	<hr/> 2,500,000
	9,800,000
And deducted from the permanent revenue of	10,400,000
	<hr/> <hr/> $600,000

Leave a surplus revenue of six hundred thousand dollars applicable to other objects

The following extraordinary resources and demands, not being of a permanent nature, are not included in that calculation, to wit:

The specie in the Treasury, which, on the 30th day of September last, amounted to	$5,860,000
The arrears of the direct tax, estimated at	250,000
The outstanding internal duties, amounting to near	400,000
And the sum which will be repaid to the United States, on account of advances heretofore made in England for the prosecution of claims, estimated at	150,000
	<hr/> $6,660,000

Constituting an aggregate of more than six million six hundred thousand dollars; which, after reserving the sum which it is necessary to keep in the Treasury, will be sufficient to discharge the demands due on account of the convention with Great Britain, and amounting to

$2,664,000

Sundry extraordinary expenses in relation to the conventions with France and Great Britain, estimated at

100,000

The loan obtained from the State of Maryland for the city of Washington, amounting to - - - - -	$200,000
And also to pay two millions of dollars on account of the purchase of Louisiana; being the same sum which was reserved for the purposes contemplated by the law of the last session, appropriating that amount for the extraordinary expenses attending the intercourse with foreign nations.	2,000,000
	$4,964,000
It appears by the estimate D, that during the year ending on the 30th September last, the payments from the Treasury, on account of the public debt, have amounted to - - - - -	$3,096,700
Which, together with the increase of specie in the Treasury, during the same period, amounting to - - - - -	1,320,000
	4,416,700
Makes an actual difference, in favor of the United States, of more than four million four hundred thousand dollars during that year - - - - -
The payments on account of the principal of the public debt, from the 1st day of April, 1801, to the 30th day of September, 1803, have amounted, as appears by the estimate (E) to - - - - -	$9,924,004
The specie in the Treasury, on the 1st day of April, 1801, amounted to - - - - -	$1,794,000
And on the 30th day of September, 1803, to - - - - -	5,860,000
	4,066,000
Making an increase of - - - - -	4,066,000
Those two items constitute an aggregate of - - - - -	13,990,004
From which, deducting the extraordinary resource arising from the sales of the bank shares, which produced - - - - -	1,287,600
	$12,702,404

in favor of the United States, for that period of two years and a half, a sum of twelve million seven hundred thousand dollars.

From that view of the present situation of the financial concerns of the United States, it seems that the only question which requires consideration is, whether any additional revenues are wanted in order to provide for the new debt, which, if Congress shall pass the laws necessary to carry the treaty with France into effect, will result from the purchase of Louisiana.

The sum which the United States may have to pay by virtue of that treaty, amounts to fifteen millions of dollars, and consists of two items: 1st, 11,250,000 dollars payable to the Government of France, or to its assignees, in a stock bearing an interest of six per cent., payable in Europe, and the principal of which will be discharged at the Treasury of the United States, in four instalments, the first of which shall commence in the year 1818; 2dly, a sum which cannot exceed, but may fall short of, 3,750,000 dollars, payable in specie at the Treasury of the United States, during the course of the ensuing year, to American citizens having claims of a certain description on the Government of France.

It has already been stated that two millions of dollars may be paid from the specie now in the Treasury, on account of the last item; and the whole amount of the new debt which may eventually be created, cannot, therefore exceed thirteen millions of dollars; the annual interest of which is equal to 780,000 dollars; but, on account of commissions and variations of exchange, will be estimated at eight hundred thousand dollars.

The existing surplus revenue of the United States will, as has been stated, be sufficient to discharge six hundred thousand dollars of that sum; and it is expected that the nett revenue collected at New Orleans will be equal to the remaining two hundred thousand dollars. That opinion rests on the supposition that Congress shall place that port on the same footing as those of the United States, so that the same duties shall be collected there, on the importation of foreign merchandise, as are now, by law, levied in the United States; and that no duties shall be collected, either on the exportation of produce or merchandise, from New Orleans to any other place; nor on any articles imported in the United States from the ceded territories, or into those territories from the United States.

The statements F, G, H, exhibit the annual exports and imports of the United States, to and from Florida and Louisiana, for the years 1799 to 1802; and the statement (G) particularly shows that the exportations from the Atlantic States to those colonies, of articles not of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, amounted for the three years, 1799, 1800, and 1801, to 6,622,189 dollars, making an average of more than two million two hundred thousand dollars of foreign articles liable to pay duty, annually imported into Florida and Louisiana from the United States alone.

It is ascertained that the exportations from the United States to Florida are so trifling, that that statement may be considered as applying solely to New Orleans; and it is also known that almost the whole of those importations were consumed within that colony; and that, during the war, the supplies from the United States constituted by far the greater part of its imports.

From thence it results, that the annual importations into the ceded territory, of articles destined for the consumption of its own inhabitants, and which will, under the revenue laws of the United States, be liable to pay duty, may safely be estimated at two million five hundred thousand dollars; an amount which, at the present rate of duties, will yield a revenue of about 350,000 dollars.

From that revenue must be deducted 150,000 dollars, for the following items, viz:

1st. The amount of duties on a quantity of sugar and indigo, equal to that which shall be imported from New Orleans to the United States, as those articles, being imported free from duty, will diminish by so much the revenue now collected in the seaports of the United States. The whole amount of sugar exported from New Orleans is less than 4,000,000 of pounds, and that of indigo is stated at about 30,000 pounds. Supposing (which, on account of that exemption, is not improbable) that the whole of those articles should hereafter be exported to the United States, the loss to the revenue will be about 100,000 dollars.

2d. No increase of expense in the military establishment of the United States is contemplated on account of the acquisition of territory; but the expenses of the civil administration of the province, and those incident to the intercourse with the Indians, are estimated at 50,000 dollars: leaving for the nett revenue derived from the province, and applicable to the payment of the interest of the new debt, 200,000 dollars, as above stated. The only provisions which, if that view of the subject be correct, appear necessary, and are respectfully submitted, are:

1st. In relation to the stock of 11,250,000 dollars, to be created in favor of the Government of France, or of its assignees.

That that debt be made a charge on the sinking fund, directing the commissioners of the fund to apply so much of its proceeds as may be necessary for the payment of interest and reimbursement or redemption of the principal, in the same manner as, by the existing laws, they are directed to do in relation to the payment of interest and discharge of the principal of the debt now charged on that fund.

That so much of the duties on merchandise and tonnage as will be equal to seven hundred thousand dollars, being the sum wanted to pay the interest of that new stock, be added to the annual permanent appropriation for the sinking fund, making, together with the existing appropriation, eight millions of dollars, annually applicable to the payment of the interest and principal of the public debt.

And that the said annual sum of eight millions of dollars remain thus pledged, and be vested in the commissioners of the sinking fund, in trust for the said payments, until the whole of the existing debt of the United States and of the new stock shall have been reimbursed or redeemed.

As a sum equal to the interest accruing on the new stock will thus be added to the sinking fund, the operation of that fund, as it relates to the extinguishment of the existing debt, will remain precisely on the same footing as has been heretofore provided by Congress. The new debt will neither impede nor retard the payment of the principal of the old debt; and the fund will be sufficient, besides paying the interest on both, to discharge the principal of the old debt before the year 1818, and that of the new within one year and a half after that year.

2d. In relation to the American claims, the payment of which is assumed by the convention with France.

That a sum not exceeding 3,750,000 dollars, inclusive of the two millions appropriated by a law of the last session of Congress, for defraying the extraordinary expenses incident to the intercourse with foreign nations, be appropriated for the payment of those claims, to be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

That, for the purpose of effecting the whole of that payment, the President of the United States be authorized to borrow a sum not exceeding 1,750,000 dollars, at an interest not exceeding six per cent. a year.

And that so much of the proceeds of the duties on merchandise and tonnage as may be necessary, be appropriated for the payment of the interest, and for the reimbursement of the principal of the loan, which may eventually be effected by virtue of the preceding provision.

It is not proposed to charge that loan on the sinking fund, because its amount, in case it shall be effected, cannot at present be ascertained; and because it may, perhaps, under the then existing circumstances of the Treasury, be found more expedient not to borrow the money, and, in lieu of it, to pay out of the sinking fund the whole, or a part, of the two last instalments payable by virtue of the convention with Great Britain, as authorized by the act making provision for the payment of the whole of the public debt.

It is evident that the possibility of thus providing for the payment of the interest of a new debt of thirteen millions of dollars, without either recurring to new taxes, or interfering with the provisions heretofore made for the payment of the existing debt, depends on the correctness of the estimate of the public revenue which has been submitted. Although it is not without

Note to Statement E.

From the amount of debt redeemed from the 1st April, 1801, to the 30th September 1803, amounting as per this statement to $9,924,004 71
 Deducting the amount redeemed from 1st October, 1802, to 30th September 1803, amounting, as per statement D, to 3,096,700 69

Leaves the amount redeemed, from 1st April, 1801, to 30th September, 1802 6,827,304 02

The Secretary of the Treasury, in his report of the 16th December, 1802, states the amount redeemed during the same period, exclusively of 1,287,600 dollars bank debt, discharged out of the proceeds of bank shares, at - - - - - $5,339,886 44

To which, adding the amount of bank debt thus discharged - - - - - 1,287,600 00

Makes an aggregate of - - - - - 6,627,486 44

Making a difference between this statement and that of the Secretary - - - - - 199,817 58

Arising as follows, viz :

I. The Secretary, in his report of December 18th, 1801, did not include the following items of debt, discharged between the 1st April, and 30th September, 1801, to wit :

1. Payments to foreign officers, and on account of certain parts of the domestic debt - - - - - 17,752 23

2. Payment on account of the principal of the domestic debt, by the reimbursement of 3 per cent. on the nominal amount of the six per cent. and deferred stocks - - - - - 142,271 28

Which payment was exclusively of that to the trustees of the sinking fund, of $129,048 83, stated by the Secretary in his report.

3. Payment on account of the foreign debt, arising from his having estimated the interest accruing during these six months, at one-half of that for the calendar year, viz: - $245 980 50

Whilst the real interest accruing during said six months was - - - 209,272 00

$36,708 50

$196,732 01

- II. The Secretary, in his report of 16th December, 1802, 1st, estimates the interest accrued on the domestic debt, from 1st October, 1801, to 30th September, 1802, at - - - 3,470,259 75

By the Register's calculation, it amounted to 3,464,706 29

5,553 46

2. He estimated the deduction on account of rate of exchange and bills in suit, at less than it really was 2,619 22

2,934 24

- III. The Register has inserted in the amount of this estimate for a debt due to the United States, paid in stock - - - 151 33

$199,817 58

Asking a difference between this statement and that of the Secretary.

Makes an aggregate of

Asking as follows, viz:

1. The Secretary, in his report of December 1801, did not include the following items of debt, discharged between the 1st April, and 30th September, 1801, to wit:

A. Payments to foreign officers, and on account of certain parts of the domestic debt.

B. Payment on account of the principal of the domestic debt, by the reimbursement of 3 per cent on the nominal amount of the six per cent, and destined
